

iTalkie™ MT: remote messaging client

Text messages on vehicle dashboard touchscreens

Messaging for drivers made easy.

- Dispatch a message to a driver via email or PC
- Drivers can reply using simple, predefined messages

iTalkie™/MT is a thin messaging client designed to handle traffic alerts, work order management or other types of notifications sent to an entire fleet of vehicles or individual drivers.

In addition to being able to operate as a bi-directional remote messaging client, the user interface makes it easy to read and it is designed to interact with touchscreens. The client runs on a PC connected to the vehicle's mobile radio via the USB cable and displayed on traditional 7" to 10" touchscreen LCD display mounted on the dashboard, or an inexpensive Windows 8 Tablet PC.

Messages can be sent via one of TABLETmedia's applications such as:

- text@trbo™ email gateway
- iTalkie™/RG radio gateway
- extracker@trbo™ entry level GPS and messaging dispatch

Double tapping on a message displays a list of pre-defined message that are sent back to the dispatcher.

In addition, iTalkie™/MT can be customized to receive data through one of the PC's RS-232, USB or parallel port inputs and sent it back to the dispatcher or a server as a text message. For instance it can be used to report fuel level, oil temperature, battery voltage, vehicle telemetry, or, conversely, remotely activate features on the vehicle.
